Past Perfect Continuous

Budowa

had + been + czasownik-ing

I had been working.

She had been studying.

They had been waiting.

Używamy Past Perfect Continuous, gdy chcemy podkreślić, że czynność:

- trwała przez pewien czas przed innym wydarzeniem w przeszłości,
- była przyczyną lub tłem wydarzenia,
- była procesem.

Przykłady

I had been working for three hours when he called.

She was tired because she had been studying all night.

They had been waiting for an hour when the bus finally arrived.
